

Björn Borg Footwear is looking for a super strong Key Account Manager Finland

There is something with active people that we love at Björn Borg. They have a certain vibe. A glow and a drive to always find new ways, to constantly make progress. That is the reason to why we encourage people to be active – not just through our underwear, shoes and sportswear, but also through our corporate culture. We want our team mates to live the brand and be game changers in mind and soul. We encourage and support each other through challenging one another. It keeps us on our toes, both mentally and physically. So if you are this active person we talk about, you will fit into our team like a glove.

The position:

You will be in charge of sales of Björn Borg Footwear in Finland with new and existing clients. Coming up with ideas around campaigns and other activities will be a natural part of your daily work since we are on the rise in Finland and constantly work on strengthening our brand. You will frequently travel within Finland, but at times also to the Swedish office in Varberg and our headquarters in Stockholm.

The position is fulltime and you will be reporting to our Business Unit Manager at Björn Borg Footwear in Varberg, Sweden. The Swedish office also hosts sales, marketing, finance and customer support.

The position is based in Helsinki, where you will be sharing office with our colleagues in Björn Borg clothing and bags.

Start date: August 1.

We are looking for you who:

- Have experience in sales, preferably within footwear, fashion or sports.
- Are thorough and always follow up on your clients and contracts.
- Are fluent in both written and spoken Finnish and English.
- Like doing business and like challenges.
- Dare to stand out and are driven by making a difference.
- Enjoy being at the gym as well as other environments that make you strong.
- Are used to working independently and structured towards set goals.

Are you a winner with a nose for business?

Send your application and cv to mikael.jonsson@bjornborg.com before the 8 of June.
